

Bright Future Predicted
For U. S. Export Trade

A bright future for the export trade of the United States after the war was predicted by A. H. Baldwin, of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce at Washington, in an address before the export division of the Advertising Club.

Mr. Baldwin, who was a resident of London during the first two years of the war, declared that he was most optimistic concerning the future of the export trade until our entrance into the war, but now, with our active cooperation with the Allies, he said, no other than the most hopeful of outlooks can be assumed. His prophecy found echo and endorsement in an address by Franklin Johnson, publisher of "The American Exporter."

Nujol For Constipation

Do Yours Look Like These?

Brown-faced, vigorous, healthy youngsters—sickness never troubles them.

Do yours look like these?

Or does constipation, the chief foe to a healthy childhood handicap them and make them the prey of the many ills that less sturdy little folk are heir to?

Nujol is particularly valuable for relieving constipation in children, as well as in grown-ups because it doesn't upset the stomach, cause diarrhoea or form a habit. It acts as a simple internal lubricant, encouraging and facilitating the natural activity of the bowels.

As Nujol is not a physic but a lubricant, it does not gripe or upset the system. Being tasteless, it is not unpleasant to take.

The Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) has used its world-wide resources in producing Nujol and its reputation is behind the product.

Nujol is the only remedy for constipation we manufacture. The genuine sold only in pint bottles bearing Nujol trade-mark. All bottles filled at our Nujol plant, absolutely modern and sanitary.

Write today for an instructive booklet on Nujol and its uses.

Fairer System Sent to Wilson and Congress

The Mayor's Committee on National Defense yesterday adopted resolutions endorsing the Administration army bill now before Congress, calling for universal military service "as the only fair and effective system," and offered its cooperation and services to the Mayor's Committee on Food Supplies. The committee declared that the food problem was one of "the most important and urgent of those forced upon us by the war."

While the military census, the food situation and the stimulating of recruiting were the three definite activities in which the committee was engaged at the present time, Mr. Straight said, it had also created sub-committees to meet the other inevitable problems of the war.

These committees include the Finance Committee, Lewis L. Clarke, chairman; the Relief Committee, Thomas Cochran, chairman; Committee on Medical Supplies and Hospital Facilities, Dr. S. S. Goldwater, chairman; Committee on Aliens, Nicholas Biddle, chairman; Committee on Co-operative Organizations, George T. Wilson, chairman; Speakers' Committee, A. H. Spencer, chairman; and a women's cooperating committee, Miss Ruth Morgan, chairman. Supplementary committees have been organized in the various boroughs.

Mr. Straight declared that a satisfactory coordination had been effected of all the various local agencies that are striving for the nation's security.

Volunteer Hospital
Appeals for Old Clothes

If you have any old clothes to give away send them to the Social Service of the Volunteer Hospital, Water and Beekman Streets, New York City. Since January 1 the service has given away more than 1,000 garments to the hospital's destitute patients.

"We want to discharge our patients properly equipped, so that they shall have a fair chance in their fight for life," the appeal says. "They cannot obtain provisions unless they are decently clothed."

Upon receipt of a postal or telephone message the committee will send for any package.

J. W. Howarth Not Involved

The Tribune printed yesterday an article describing the surrender to Sheriff Weinstein of Joseph Walsh, who had been indicted for forgery in connection with a claim presented against the city of Yonkers. The headline read, "Yonkers City Clerk, Charged with Forgery, Surrenders."

The expression "City Clerk" referred to Walsh, who actually was a clerk in the employ of the city, attached to the stenographic force of the Corporation Counsel. It did not refer, and was not intended to refer, to J. W. Howarth, who holds the office of City Clerk of that city. Mr. Howarth was not named in the article and was not involved in the proceedings in any way.

Cornu's "Junior Orchestra"
Gives Fourth Recital in Aeolian Hall

Louis J. Cornu's "Junior Orchestra" gave its fourth annual concert in Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon, offering a programme of symphonic proportions, interpolated with vocal and instrumental soli.

The young musicians, none of whom looked more than fifteen years old, displayed a docility and disciplined intelligence which would have done credit to much mature performers. Throughout the entertainment their unanimity of attack, simple and unaffected concentration upon leader and score contributed largely to the artistic and really enjoyable results which they achieved.

Yesterday's concert stands as a small but significant monument to the loyal work Mr. Cornu has done every winter for the last four years. For three hours each Saturday morning during the music season he assembles the incipient artists who appeared in public yesterday and coaches them in ensemble playing. Especially creditable to Mr. Cornu is the fact that he gives his services simply to advance the love of music among serious amateurs and without any material remuneration whatsoever.

The "Nyle Choral Society" gave its second recital of the season at Aeolian Hall last night, under the able direction of Bruno Hahn. The mixed chorus sang with enthusiasm tempered by good taste, and was especially successful in the matters of tonal shading and diction. The "Nyle" society is composed of New York Life Insurance Company employees.

Mme. Marie L. Ranke gave a recital yesterday at Delmonico's. Miss Anna Bosetti, soprano of the Aborn Opera Company, sang. Ronalado Sapiro was at the piano.
